DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-9, 11-15 and 17-21 in Paper No. 6 is acknowledged.

Claims 10 and 16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9, 11-15 and 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ruml et al. (The effect of calcium citrate on bone density in the early and id-postmenopausal period: a randomized placebo-controlled study, abstract, Nov. 1999).

Ruml et al. teaches a method of calcium citrate supplementation in post-menopausal women for a period of two years. It further teaches that the amount of calcium was 400 mg, twice daily.

Note that the host, the amount, and the pharmaceutical active are the same in both Ruml and the instant application. Therefore the increase of HDL would have been inherent by the administration of the Ruml composition and following Ruml's prescribed regimen.
